Hey  trollcatz (<https://trollcatz.livejournal.com/>), Ace--I'm just kind of trying out this communication thing. Go easy, okay? And don't mention it to anybody. I'm not ready for the questions yet.

What my landlord doesn't know won't kill her, right?

Oh. My. God.

I think I have to call T. and tell her the remodel isn't finished. Holds on the stairway ceiling!!!

(Also, ooh, he's got a nice toehook technique on that doorframe. But he gets scored down for brushing that light fixture.)

In my experience, landladies don't need to see or hear about these things to know them. They just know.

And don't ask how I learned that.

I'll just tell her it's so she doesn't hear me stumbling in and trudging to the bathroom at three AM any more.

And the occasional whump "Damn!" won't bother her at all. g
